

Bittersweet and Ephemera are proud to present the collaboration of our magazines to the Sewickley community. Providing the opportunity for young artists to exhibit their mastery of craft. Quite often, when you hear how the author vocalizes their piece, you gain new perspectives that you would not encounter when reading it in magazines such as ours. This year is the first iteration of Off-Beat! and what will hopefully become a tradition of artistic expression between our two schools and the greater Sewickley community.
